With a solid base of over twenty years of education and experience, Jack joined Midwest in 2003. Prior to coming on board, he served as Director of Architecture with the Aspen Group and worked for award winning architectural firms in Boston, MA, Nashua, NH, and Newark, OH.

During his career, Jack has designed and managed a wide range of projects including commercial, financial, industrial, residential, restaurant, and healthcare facilities. During the past six years, he has focused exclusively on church and Christian education space.

Jack brings the heart of a servant to every project he manages. He recognizes that every project is more than just “building.” Jack believes that “Each church we build is a tool for ministry” and must be approached differently than other spaces.

Jack is a graduate of Burlington Bible Institute and holds a bachelors degree in architecture from The Ohio State University. He lives in Findlay, Ohio with his wife and children Joel, Sarah, Aaron, Samuel, Hannah and Bethany. He serves as a Deacon for Calvary Baptist Church. Jack enjoys teaching Sunday school and leading a weekly bible study for students at the University of Findlay.
